User Guide

In order to use all electronic resources offered by Beykoz University Library with off-campus access, you can access the databases via the "Menu" button on the library home page.

You can access the login page by clicking on the title of the database you want from the databases list.

On the screen that opens, you must enter your university e-mail address (@beykoz.edu.tr or @ogrenci.beykoz.edu.tr) as the "User Name" and your university e-mail address password in the password section.

> Note: If you log in to your off-campus access account once through your web browser, you will not need to log in again to other databases you want to examine unless you close your web browser.
